CLASSROOM NEWS:

- Test Taking Tip #2
  - Communicate with your child's teacher: Regular communication with your child's instructor can help you gain insight into his or her progress. Make a point of meeting or talking with your child's teacher on an ongoing basis to understand what your child is working on, what he or she will be tested on, and the areas he or she is excelling and struggling in. Your child's teacher is also a great resource for test-preparation activities or strategies you can use with your child at home. Plus, they can keep you up to date on group study sessions or other opportunities for additional review that your child may benefit from.
